dedication

If ever a prize were awarded for sheer endurance, it would have to go to a class advisor. And were the contest held today, we would cast a unanimous vote for our own Mr. James E. Wills Jr.

Words alone can never express the gratitude and affection we hold for him. In spite of every imaginable obstacle, he has managed to keep us unified and standing—a monumental accomplishment in its own right.

Mr. Wills has been more than a mere advisor; he's been a loyal and trusted friend. It is, therefore, with fond farewell and sincere best wishes that we dedicate this yearbook to our class advisor, Mr. James E. Wills Jr.

advice to juniors

As you approach Senior year, you will enter one of the most crucial phases of your high school career. The coming year will probably remain more vivid in your mind than any other.

To achieve any degree of success, I feel that you must devote special attention to the following: school involvement, class unity, and individual achievement.

Involvement in extra-curricular activities is the key which will open the door to personally rewarding experiences. The right kind of involvement should also promote concrete improvements in your school and community. Active involvement, rather than endless verbal dissension resulting from personality clashes, will be the most important factor in the achievement of any goal you set your sights on.

The success of your class will greatly depend upon the degree of unity and co-operation it will be able to attain. Even the most capable and efficient leader will be unable to achieve the goals of your class if he does not have the full support of a unified and effective body behind him.

Your individual achievements and future successes, too, will depend largely upon how well you seize educational opportunities which your school makes available to you. Use all of these ways to develop your abilities to the fullest extent and to round out your personality. Be an individual in every sense of the word. Do not hesitate to question honestly, take the initiative, and move positively in the direction which you choose.

We, the class of 1969, wish you much happiness and success in the future.

in memoriam

Stephen Fallenberg 1951-1968

Randall Trip 1953-1968

The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

CLASS SONG

To the tune of "My Cup Runneth Over"

Oh look, look what's happened,
I've finally grown old.
It happened so quickly,
Just like I was told.
School's starting, it's ending;
I'm left on my own.
One fear—can I face life alone?

One moment you're happy,
One moment you're sad.
Yet always we wish
For something not had.
In age, wisdom's easy,
In youth, needed though.
Oh why does this life fool me so?

At last school is over,
A new life begun.
All life stretched before me,
So much not yet done.
But never so happy
Will I ever be.
It's too bad I'm too young to see.

PATRICE DUPRE

CLASS POEM

"Eternal youth" seems a farce indeed
When the trials of life sprout up like weeds.
With truth concealed we find cause to wonder:
Can we rescue the world from society's blunders?

The search for truth is an endless quest,
Not a frivolous game, not a sport in jest.
But can the boundless mind of man
Inform society, guide its hand?

Though we're often misled and misguided youth,
We'll continue our quest for right and truth.
For the fate of the planet lies in our hands,
And we'll not be stopped by society's bans.

LITERARY EDITORS
